Data#3's Justin Cook Announced as Microsoft's System Center Cloud and Datacentre Management MVP in Australia

February, 18, 2014; Brisbane, Australia: Data#3 Limited, one of Australia's leading business technology solutions companies, today announced the success of one its employees - Justin Cook - in being named as Microsoft's only System Center Cloud and Datacentre Management Most Valuable Professional (MVP) in Australia for 2014.

The Microsoft MVP Award is an annual award that recognises exceptional technology leaders worldwide who actively share their high quality, real world expertise with users and Microsoft.

Data#3 Software Solutions General Manager, Brad Colledge said he was thrilled for Justin to be recognised for his contributions and passion for sharing his knowledge of Microsoft-based solutions.

"Justin's success in achieving MVP status is reflected through his involvement on some of the largest Systems Management projects delivered within Australia.

"It is a great accomplishment for Justin to be recognised as the only System Center Cloud and Datacentre Management MVP in Australia in 2014 and I speak on behalf of the Data#3 team in congratulating him on this fantastic recognition from Microsoft," commented Colledge.

Data#3's Justin Cook is the Principal Consultant, Systems Management and End User Computing at Data#3. He is a regular presenter on System Center products and complex solutions at TechEd and Data#3's own JuiceIT event. Justin was also the lead technical presenter at Data#3's System Center 2012 and Windows 8 roadshows.
