Data#3 award success continues with 11 consecutive wins

September, 15, 2017; Brisbane, Australia: Last night, Australia's leading IT solutions and services provider, Data#3, took home two awards at the 2017 ARN ICT Industry Awards – Enterprise Partner and Channel Choice Partner.

The highlights of the past 12 months were once again played out on stage at the awards ceremony, in front of over 650 of the country's leading industry figures.

Named ARN Enterprise Partner for 2017, Data#3 was presented the award for demonstrating the most outstanding product and services provisioning to customers in the enterprise market in the last 12 months. This award started in 2006, and Data#3 has been recognised as Australia's leading enterprise partner every year since its inception.

Data#3 was also named ARN Channel Choice Partner, receiving the highest number of votes in the 'Partner' category. The online-only, people's choice award gave Australia's technology industry peers a chance to choose their favourite partner.

Laurence Baynham, Data#3 Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, said of the award wins, "What an outstanding accomplishment to be named as Enterprise Partner for the eleventh year in a row, and Channel Choice Partner for the sixth year in a row. In FY17, Data#3 delivered innovative solutions to enterprise customers, and reported revenues of $1.1 billion. It was another solid year of growth for Data#3 in a competitive and transforming technology market – and we are delighted to be acknowledged by those in our industry for our achievements."

Calendar year 2017 has been a milestone year for Data#3, with the Company celebrating 40 years in business and 20 years on the ASX.
