FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Data#3 and CenturyLink to Deliver Enterprise Cloud Solutions with New Strategic Agreement

October 30, 2017; Brisbane, Australia: Data#3, a leading Australian technology provider, is pleased to announce that it has signed a partner agreement with CenturyLink, a global communications, hosting, cloud and IT services company.

The partnership will provide customers with key complementary enterprise-grade cloud options from Data#3. The company sees this as a great addition to the cloud solutions and world-leading partnerships it already has, and will continue to deliver.

Data#3's Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, Laurence Baynham, commented, "We are proud to announce our strategic agreement with CenturyLink. We will continue to work with our existing cloud partners, and we see this new relationship as a great way to expand our customer solutions. The new offering aligns seamlessly with our corporate strategy, which focuses on providing innovative cloud-based solutions and services to our customers. We look forward to working with the CenturyLink team in delivering outcomes to customers through the use of hybrid cloud solutions."

Stuart Mills, CenturyLink's regional director for Australia and New Zealand, added, "CenturyLink is delighted to be partnering with Data#3, a highly respected leader in the Australian IT services market. There is great synergy in our collaboration, as it brings a combination of strong technology, skills and services to the enterprise market which enables Data#3 to accelerate their customers' digital transformation journeys. CenturyLink Cloud brings many benefits to partners like Data#3. It offers true enterprise-grade Infrastructure-as-a-Service (IaaS), delivered through a pay-as-you-go model that best meets enterprise requirements for reliability, performance, and security, as they pursue their digital transformation goals."

Available now, customers can access the CenturyLink IaaS offering through Data#3, or as part of Data#3's Managed Services.
