Data#3 hires Kingsley McGarrigle to lead Western Australia

October, 09, 2017; Perth, Australia: Leading Australian technology provider, Data#3, is pleased to announce that Kingsley McGarrigle has been named General Manager for Western Australia, and will commence employment with the company on October 16.

Reporting to Data#3 Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, Laurence Baynham, McGarrigle will be responsible for managing the ongoing strategy and day-to-day operations of the Data#3 Western Australian business in conjunction with the company's overall corporate strategy and vision.

McGarrigle brings a wealth of experience from previous employment at companies such as Telstra and 02 in the UK. During his time at Telstra, McGarrigle held numerous senior executive positions. He most recently served as Head of Business Development and Solutioning where he was responsible for the Telstra business, which comprised of 950 enterprise customers across the country.

Commenting on his new appointment, McGarrigle said, "I'm absolutely delighted to be joining Data#3 at such an exciting time. Being asked to join the executive team to help continue the impressive growth strategy is a privilege and I look forward to working with the talented local team to help deliver great outcomes for our customers in Western Australia."

"On behalf of the leadership team, I'd like to welcome Kingsley McGarrigle to Data#3," said Baynham. "Our business in Western Australia has seen excellent performance over the past five years. We are looking forward to Kingsley complementing the great skills we already have in the team, and to continuing our growth in the Western Australian market."

The company's ongoing success, stability and growth, combined with its strong culture and values, continues to attract and retain Australia's most talented people.

"Our recent independent Employer of Choice awards have been a factor for talented individuals to make their decision to join Data#3," concluded Baynham.
