Data#3 sees double at Dell EMC awards

December 11, 2017; Brisbane, Australia: Leading Australian technology provider, Data#3, is delighted to announce that it won two accolades at Dell EMC's inaugural awards. The ceremony, which took place in Sydney, marked the first since the companies merged last year.

Data#3 won the most significant award of the event, taking out the Solution Provider of the Year award. The company came out triumphant against fierce competition from major multinationals.

Data#3 also received a special achievement award for growth-rate achievement, positioning it as the only company to take home two awards.

Data#3 Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, Laurence Baynham, commented, "Data#3 has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with EMC, and that has continued and strengthened since the company joined forces with Dell last year. Our strategic approach to help customers achieve their business goals continues to be a major differentiator in the market. These awards are great recognition of our commitment to customer success. Congratulations to the Data#3 team."

Data#3 is a national Titanium status Dell EMC partner.
